OPINION

Experiencing EGYPT

HISTORY, ADVENTURE & CULTURE!!

Dr. Manbir Singh

Egypt is mightily known for its ancient, terrific treasures and rich history, but there is so much more to this land of Pharaohs. From the surreal waters of the longest river Nile to Mount Sinai to the golden sand beaches of the Red Sea to remarkable architecture and natural therapies, Egypt is not a country. Egypt is an experience worthwhile. In the months of January and February 2023, I embarked on my trip to Egypt with many aims in my head but the main aim was to explore business prospects so as to help and strengthen the foundations of the CT Group of Institutions. Moving around in this country ultimately got the shape of a ‘treasure hunt’ for me, I always remember a proverbial saying that the ‘wandering one gathers honey’ and the fact of this proverb proved to be true while I was traveling through this country of pyramids, dusty deserts, temples and beautiful oasis and tops of the mountains, beautiful beaches, magnificent sand dunes, unique desert landscapes, and luxurious resorts, in addition to coastal areas, river islands, and wetlands.

I CAN NEVER GET OVER THE GIGANTIC AND INSPIRING SIGHT OF THE GREAT PYRAMIDS OF GIZA WHICH ARE AMONG THE SEVEN ANCIENT WONDERS OF THE WORLD AND WERE BUILT AROUND 5000 YEARS AGO.

AS A PART AND PURPOSE OF EDUCATION, I AM GIVING NAMES OF THE SEVEN ANCIENT AND NEW WONDERS OF THE WORLD –

- Great Pyramid of Giza
- Statue of Zeus
- Mausoleum of Halicarnassus
- Pharos (Lighthouse) of Alexandria.
- Hanging Gardens of Babylon
- Temple of Artemis
- Colossus of Rhodes

New Seven Wonders of the World

- Great Wall of China
- Machu Picchu
- Colosseum
- Chichén Itzá El Castillo, a Toltec-style pyramid, Mexico
- Petra
- Christ the Redeemer
- Taj Mahal

All these wonders of the world were built for a purpose and are being watched and studied worldwide by thousands of people around the year. People visit these places to know the historical facts behind the built-up structures and also to have knowledge about the cultural, social, and archaeological values of these monuments and buildings. Focusing back on the main topic of my visit to Egypt,

I am referring here to some more important facts about the places in Egypt. One such fact is the presence of the Nile River in Egypt and Egypt is known as the ‘Gift of Nile’. Most of the regions in Egypt are deserts and the only exception is the Nile River. The Nile basin has not only witnessed the emergence of early civilization, but it also provides water and fertile soil which enables agriculture in the country. In addition to the economical value of the Nile River, one can travel in groups by cruise ship to have a more wonderful experience.

After my Egyptian experiences and adventures, I straight away flew to Johannesburg, the City of Gold where I stayed for a few days for business purposes. I will definitely share about this journey as well in the foreseeable future. On this note, I conclude my insights and learnings from my memorable and stimulating Egypt visit.

PRESIDENCY IN INDIA IS EXTRAORDINARY,

we support all the priorities that it puts forward."

Lukash discussed the Russia-Ukraine war and its impact on the G20 negotiations, the plans of Russian President Vladimir Putin to travel to India and India's possible role in the war.

Russia's G20 Sherpa SVETLANA LUKASH has been the Russian President's envoy for G20 negotiations considering 2013. Lukash, forty six, is a skilled economist and is taken into consideration one of the hardest negotiators inside the Russian government, who had negotiated the Bali statement. In an interview to SHUBHAJIT ROY in Kumarakom, at the sidelines of the 2nd G20 Sherpas assembly, Lukash spoke about the Russia-Ukraine battle and its effect on the G20 negotiations, Russian President Vladimir Putin's plans to visit India and India's viable role within the battle. Excerpts:

VP HARRIS CLOSSES AFRICA VISIT WITH INDIVIDUAL HALT IN ZAMBIA

Whereas there, she examined obligation rebuilding with that nation's president and declared a extend of private-sector commitments worth more than $7 billion, pointed at supporting climate strength, adjustment and relief. But for Harris, this halt was a extraordinary one – she gone by the southern African country as a youthful young lady, when her granddad was positioned here as an Indian negotiator. "A homecoming" is how Zambia's president portrayed Friday's visit by Harris, as he driven her through the rich grounds of the presidential royal residence where zebras, giraffes and peacocks meandered. Harris, as well, lolled in wistfulness as she made an unannounced halt at a property in central Lusaka — presently possessed by a cutting edge, nondescript office compound — where records appear her granddad once lived. But this two-day halt at the tail conclusion of her Africa visit moreover included a troublesome subject — the landlocked but copper-rich country was the primary African country to default on its imperial obligation when the COVID-19 widespread started in 2020. On Friday, President Hakainde Hichilema offered to Harris for U.S. offer assistance in rebuilding the obligation, which is nearing $15 billion.

McDonald's allegedly briefly close its U.S. workplaces & plans cutback takes note

Burger chain McDonald's is briefly closing its U.S. workplaces because it plans to illuminate corporate workers approximately its cutbacks as portion of a broader company rebuilding, The Divider Road Diary detailed on Sunday. In an inside e-mail final week to U.S. representatives and a few worldwide staff, McDonald's inquired them to work from domestic from Monday through Wednesday so it can provide staffing choices essentially, the report said. It is hazy how numerous representatives will be laid off. "During the week of April 3, we are going communicate key choices related to parts and staffing levels over the organization," the Chicago-based company said within the message seen by the Diary. McDonald's too inquired representatives to cancel all in-person gatherings with sellers and other exterior parties at its central station, the report included. McDonald's did not instantly react to a Reuters ask for comment. The fast-food chain said in January that it would survey corporate staffing levels as portion of an upgraded trade procedure, which seem lead to layoffs in a few zones and development in others.
