CT Campuses Celebrate Teej with Cultural Splendour

The celebration featured an array of cultural activities — soulful singing performances, graceful modelling rounds, energetic giddha performances, and captivating folk acts. Students also showcased their creativity in Rangoli, Henna Art, Paranda Tying, and Miss Teej competitions, while fun games like LAN Gaming, Cricket, Lemon Race, and Carrom kept the festive energy high. Adding to the charm, various cultural stalls offered traditional crafts, festive accessories, and flavours of Punjab, creating a bazaar-like experience. The audience, comprising students and faculty dressed in vibrant ethnic attire, amplified the festive spirit and perfectly embodied the essence of Teej.

CT University Welcomes 3500+ Freshers with Grand 4-Day Orientation Program
A Vibrant Beginning to a New Academic Journey

CT University's annual orientation program "NIRMAAN – Ek Nayi Shuruaat, Ek Naya Iraada" unfolded over an exciting 4-day celebration, welcoming more than 3500 plus new students into its academic family. This year's fresh batch has joined diverse academic streams including Hotel Management, Law, Pharmacy, and Engineering, bringing together a vibrant mix of talents and aspirations. The event served as a dynamic platform to introduce freshers to the university's ethos, opportunities, and vibrant campus life. The inaugural ceremony witnessed the gracious presence of Chancellor S. Charanjit Singh Channi, Pro Chancellor Dr. Manbir Singh, Vice Chairman Harpreet Singh, Vice Chancellor Dr. Nitin Tandon, Pro Vice Chancellor Dr. Simran Gill, Pro Vice Chancellor Dr. Avinash Sharma, Registrar Sanjay Khanduri, and Director, DSW Er. Davinder Singh, who addressed the gathering with inspiring words. The orientation blended cultural vibrancy and informative sessions, featuring mesmerizing dance performances, fashion walks, Bhangra, an anti-ragging awareness skit, interactive activities, and even a surprise appearance by beloved cartoon characters Motu and Patlu, spreading joy among the students.

CT University Ignites Creativity with Open Mic Season 5

CT University once again served as a vibrant platform for creative expression and youthful energy with the successful organisation of Open Mic Season 5. The event, held on campus, brought together a diverse group of passionate speakers, storytellers, and performers, creating a dynamic space for voices to be heard and talents to shine. This season witnessed overwhelming participation across different disciplines, who gathered not only to perform but also to listen, support, and celebrate each other's stories and art. The event encapsulated CT University's dedication to fostering a culture that encourages free expression, storytelling, and thought-provoking dialogue. A host of impressive speakers graced the stage during the evening. Among them were Suruchi Sidhu, Sandeep K Jain, Jatinder Kumar, Manpreet Kaur, Sukhwinder Kaur, Taranjot Singh, Prabh Simran Kaur, and Umesh Chhabra, representing the well-known initiative Helping Hands. Each performer shared personal narratives and inspirational stories, sparking emotion, laughter, and reflection among the attendees. What made this season particularly memorable was the creative blend of storytelling and music. Prabh Simran Kaur and Umesh Chhabra stood out with their soulful singing, seamlessly woven into their narratives, adding depth and emotional resonance to their performances.
